2021 - 2022

CONTENTS

- 1 FCAN Chair's Message

THE FINANCIAL COUNSELLORS' ASSOCIATION OF NSW ACKNOWLEDGES THE TRADITIONAL OWNERS, CUSTODIANS AND ELDERS OF THE LANDS ACROSS AUSTRALIA AND PARTICULARLY THE GADIGAL PEOPLE OF THE EORA NATION, PAST AND PRESENT, ON WHOSE TRADITIONAL LAND THE FINANCIAL COUNSELLORS' ASSOCIATION OF NSW OFFICE IS SITUATED.

FCAN Chair's Message

We started the year still very much impacted by Covid and the changes that had meant to our services and delivery processes and have now largely emerged from that but understanding that things will not be the same again. In many ways things have got progressively worse with us seeing jobs and businesses closing due to lack of supplies and staff, no affordable housing options for many, others not able to meet regular mortgage payments with rising interest rates and the gap between haves and have nots widening at a rapid rate.

In this time of flux FCAN has done, I believe, extremely well in providing a wonderful range of CPD options at all levels of need. It has catered well for financial counsellors' personal well-being and had a great achievement in the provision of a virtual conference. Executive Officer Jo Parker, her staff and conference committee are to be commended on the success this was and for the many messages from members saying how much they had learnt and enjoyed it.

While unfortunately the natural disasters have not abated, we have become much more adept at assisting the communities affected by them and in meeting regularly with agency managers and team leaders have provided our own community to lean on and use as a sounding board for issues arising from such events or in any capacity. Specific working groups made up of financial counsellors who have recognised experience in niche areas of work including natural disasters, have been formed and it is hoped that they will become the go to people to consult when other areas of NSW are faced with these specific challenges.

Many of the members who started as interns to prop up the services with the influx of clients from Covid and increased funding made possible from the adoption of the Sylvan review recommendations, which hasn't quite happened as expected, have now been practising financial counsellors for some time. FCAN were pleased to assist them at the beginning of this journey by providing coaching to fill in some of the gaps not covered in the Diploma. Some of this intake of financial counsellors have begun working in the re-jigged gambling support service, Gambleaware which presents different support needs.

While welcoming new members to the industry we have lost two of our most influential members in Maria Hatch and Kevin Howard as well as farewelling others to retirement.

You will have noticed the revamped webpage for FCAN, and this will be expanded in its usefulness to access your peers, referral pathways or to find training pertinent to NSW. This along with the weekly newsletter and quarterly Sharkwatch provides access to member information, keeping all, up to date.

The Board which leads the organisation is very ably served by a small part time staff of Executive Officer, Jo Parker, Admin officer, Jocelin Walker, Bookkeeper, Lesley Dixon, Supervision Support Martin Derby and Sharkwatch Editor, Wayne Warburton. Like many, they choose to have flexible working arrangements of some time in the office and some at home and in fact they have like others in the community been wracked with Covid and other viruses and transport strikes etc. etc. so they and in particular Jo, are to be congratulated in being able to keep the Association running not only well but with no discernible change or downturn in required availability.

I am standing down from the Board as per the constitution after my 6 years of service and the wonderful Kylie Holford who has been my deputy for the past 3 years is standing down also but continues to represent all members on the FCA Board. The new Board will be made up of members who are back having stood down and then returned, those who are continuing in a second or third, two-year term and those who have never represented on this level in FCAN before. They give of their time, experience and knowledge with the support of the organisations they work for and try as best as possible to keep the members apprised of what they are doing on their behalf via General Meetings, the weekly newsletter and email.

I would like to make mention of two Board members who while they work hard and contribute much of themselves are lesser known as they are not financial counsellors but co-opted to bring their skills and experience to the Board, they are David Ross and David Coorey. Thank you to you both.

I wish the new Board well and hope they continue to forge relationships with NSW government departments in particular Service NSW who have been positioned as the go to organisation in the State on many levels. That they expand on the relationship begun with the Charles Sturt University Communications department to assist in building the FCAN profile and that CPD remains a high priority to lift the professionalism of financial counsellors in NSW.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

Financial reporting framework

The special purpose financial statements of the entity have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 and the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991. The management committee has determined that the entity is not a reporting entity as it is unlikely that there are users that are unable to command the preparation of reports tailored so as to satisfy all of their information needs.

Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical cost unless otherwise stated in the notes. The accounting policies that have been adopted in the preparation of this report are as follows:

Financial Counsellors' Association of NSW Inc
Notes to the Financial Statements
For the Financial Year Ended 30 June 2022

Revenue

Revenue comprises revenue from government grants, donations, client contributions and interest income.

Revenue is measured by reference to the fair value of consideration received or receivable by the entity for goods supplied and services provided, excluding sales taxes, rebates and trade discounts.

Revenue is recognised when the amount of revenue can be measured reliably, collection is probably, the costs incurred or to be incurred can be measured reliably, and when the criteria for each of the organisation's different activities have been met.

Foreign currency

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the functional currency at exchange rates at the date of transactions. Amounts outstanding are translated at year end.

Operating expenses

Operating expenses are recognised in profit or loss upon utilisation of the service or at the date of their origin.

Income tax

No provision for income tax has been raised as the entity is exempt from income tax as a registered charity under the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash on hand equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at-call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any provision for impairment. Trade receivables are generally due for settlement within 30 days.

Property, plant and equipment

Each class of property, plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair value, less, where applicable, accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

Financial Counsellors' Association of NSW Inc
Notes to the Financial Statements
For the Financial Year Ended 30 June 2022

Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment are measured on the cost basis less depreciation and any impairment losses. In the event the carrying amount of plant and equipment is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, the carrying amount is written down immediately to its estimated recoverable amount recognised either in the profit or loss.

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of all fixed assets is depreciated over the asset's useful life to the entity commencing from the time the asset is held ready to use.

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount. These gains or losses are included in the financial statements.

Impairment of assets

At the end of each reporting period the entity determines whether there is any evidence of an impairment indicator for non-financial assets.

Where an indicator exists and regardless for indefinite life intangible assets and intangible assets not yet available for use, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated.

Where assets do not operate independently or other assets, the recoverable amount of the relevant cash generating unit (CGU) is estimated.

The recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is the higher of the fair value less costs of disposal and the value in use. Value in use is the present value of the future cash flows expected to be derived from an asset or cash generating unit.

Where the recoverable amount is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss.

Reversal indicators are considered in subsequent periods for all assets which have suffered an impairment loss.

For the Financial Year Ended 30 June 2022

Financial Instruments

Financial instruments are recognised initially using trade date accounting, i.e. on the date that the entity becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

On initial recognition, all financial instruments are measured at fair value plus transaction costs (except for instruments measured at fair value through profit or loss where transaction costs are expensed as incurred).

Financial assets

Financial assets are divided into the following categories which are described in detail below:

- Loans and receivables;
- Financial assets at fair value through profit and loss;
- Available-for-sale financial assets; and
- Held-to-maturity investments.

Financial assets are assigned to the different categories on initial recognition, depending on the characteristics of the instrument and its purpose. A financial instrument's category is relevant to the way it is measured and whether any resulting income and expenses are recognised in the profit or loss or in other comprehensive income.

All income and expenses relating to financial assets are recognised in the financial statements.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They arise principally through the provision of goods and services to customers but also incorporate other types of contractual monetary assets. After initial recognition these are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment. Any change in their value is recognised in the financial reports.

The entity's trade and other receivables fall into this category of financial instruments.

Significant receivables are considered for impairment on an individual asset basis when they are past due at the reporting date or when objective evidence is received that a specific counterparty will default.

The amount of the impairment is the difference between the net carrying amount and the present value of the future expected cash flows associated with the impaired receivable.

Financial Counsellors' Association of NSW Inc
Notes to the Financial Statements
For the Financial Year Ended 30 June 2022

In some circumstances, the entity renegotiates repayment terms with customers which may lead to changes in the timing of the payments, the entity does not necessarily consider the balance to be impaired, however assessment is made on a case-by-case basis.

Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity. Investments are classified as held-to-maturity if it is the intention of the entity's management to hold them until maturity.

Held-to maturity investments are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, with revenue recognised on an effective yield basis. In addition, if there is objective evidence that the investment has been impaired, the financial asset is measured at the present value of estimated future cash flows. Any changes to the carrying amount of the investment are recognised in the financial statements.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as either financial liabilities 'at fair value through profit or loss' or other financial liabilities depending on the purpose for which the liability was acquired.

The entity's financial liabilities include borrowings, trade and other payables, which are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Impairment of financial assets

At the end of the reporting period the entity assesses whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired.

Financial assets at amortised cost

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on financial assets carried at amortised cost has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the financial assets original effective interest rate.

Impairment on loans and receivables is reduced through the use of an allowance account, all other impairment losses on financial assets at amortised cost are taken directly to the asset.

Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited against other expenses in profit or loss.

For the Financial Year Ended 30 June 2022

Available-for-sale financial assets

A significant or prolonged decline in value of an available-for-sale asset below its cost is objective evidence of impairment, in this case, the cumulative loss that has been recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to profit or loss as a reclassification adjustment. Any subsequent increase in the value of the asset is taken directly to other income.

Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the entity prior to the end of the financial year and which are unpaid. Due to the short-term nature they are measured at amortised cost and are not discounted. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within 30 days of recognition.

Goods and services tax (GST)

Revenue, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of GST.

The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO is included as part of receivables or payables in the statement of financial position.

Employee benefits

Provision is made for entity's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to the end of the reporting period. Employee benefits that are expected to be wholly settled within one year have been measured at the amounts to be paid when the liability is settled.

Employee benefits expected to be settled more than one year after the end of the reporting period have been measured at the present value of estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits. In determining the liability, consideration is given to employee wage increases and the probability that the employee may satisfy vesting requirements. Cashflows may be discounted using market yields on high quality corporate bond rates incorporating bonds rated AAA or AA by credit agencies, with terms to maturity that match the expected timing of cashflows. Changes in the measurement of the liability are recognised in profit or loss.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the entity has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result, and that outflow can be reliably measured. Provisions recognised represent the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.

Comparative figures

Where required by Accounting Standards, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform to changes in presentation for the current financial year.

Significant management judgement in applying accounting policies

When preparing the financial statements, management undertakes a number of judgements, estimates and assumptions about the recognition and measurement of assets, liabilities, income and expenses.

Estimation uncertainty

Information about estimates and assumptions that have the most significant effect on recognition and measurement of assets, liabilities, income and expenses is provided. Actual results may be substantially different.

Useful lives of depreciable assets

Management reviews its estimates of the useful lives of depreciable assets at each reporting date, based on the expected utility of the assets. Uncertainties in these estimates relate to technical obsolescence that may change the utility of certain software and IT equipment.

The entity has certain financial assets which are measured at fair value. Where fair value has not been able to be determined based on quoted price, a valuation model has been used. The inputs to these models are observable, where possible, however these techniques involve significant estimates and therefore fair value of the instruments could be affected by changes in these assumptions and inputs.

Impairment

In assessing impairment, management estimates the recoverable amount of each asset or cash-generating units, based expected future cash flows and uses an interest rate to discount them.

Estimation uncertainty relates to assumptions about future operating results and the determination of a suitable discount rate.

4. Related Parties

The entity's related parties include its key management personnel and related entities. Transactions between related parties are on normal commercial terms and conditions no more favourable than those available to other parties.

5. Contingent liabilities

There are no contingent liabilities as at 30 June 2022 (2021: None).

6. Subsequent events

No adjusting or significant non-adjusting events have occurred between the reporting date and the date of authorisation of these accounts.

7. NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991

As a registered charity under the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991 (the Act), the entity is required to disclose income and expenses from fundraising appeals. Donations and fundraising in this note follow the definition in the Act. As such, there may be some differences in the classification of items compared to the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Further, the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income records transactions on an accruals-basis, while the Act requires fundraising income and expenses to be disclosed on a cash-basis. Therefore, donations and fundraising income and expenses in this note, have been adjusted to reflect cash received/used during the year.

Financial Counsellors' Association of NSW Inc
Independent Auditor's Review Report to the Members of Financial Counsellors'
Association of NSW Inc
For the Financial Year Ended 30 June 2022

I have reviewed the accompanying financial report, being a special purpose financial report of Financial Counsellors' Association of NSW Inc, which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2022, the statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and the responsible entities' declaration.

Responsible Entities' Responsibility for the Financial Report

The responsible entities of the registered entity are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view and have determined that the basis of preparation described in Note 3 to the financial report is appropriate to meet the requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 (ACNC Act) and the needs of the members. The responsible entities' responsibility also includes such internal control that the responsible entities determine is necessary to enable the preparation of a financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express a conclusion on the financial report based on my review. I conducted my review in accordance with Auditing Standard on Review Engagements ASRE 2415 Review of a Financial Report: Company Limited by Guarantee or an Entity Reporting under the ACNC Act or Other Applicable Legislation or Regulation, in order to state whether, on the basis of the procedures described, anything has come to my attention that causes me to believe that the financial report does not satisfy the requirements of Division 60 of the ACNC Act including: giving a true and fair view of the registered entity's financial position as at 30 June 2022 and its performance for the period ended on that date; and complying with the Australian Accounting Standards and the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Regulation 2013 (ACNC Regulation).

ASRE 2415 requires I comply with the ethical requirements relevant to the review of the financial report. A review of a financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for the financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. I am not able to obtain or provide assurance that I would become aware of each and every significant matter and it is on this basis I express my financial review opinion.

Report for the requirements of the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991

I have reviewed the financial report as required by Section 24(2) of the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991. My procedures included obtaining an understanding of the internal control structure for fundraising appeal activities and examination, on a test basis, of evidence supporting compliance with the accounting and associated record keeping requirements for fundraising appeal activities pursuant to NSW Charitable Fundraising Regulations 2015.

Because of the inherent limitations of any assurance engagement, it is possible that fraud, error or non-compliance may occur and not be detected. A review is not designed to detect all instance of non-compliance with requirements described in the above-mentioned Acts and Regulations as it is not performed continuously throughout the period and procedures performed in respect of compliance with these requirements are undertaken on a test basis. The conclusion expressed in the report has been formed on the above basis.

In my opinion:

- a) the financial report of the entity has been properly drawn up and associated records have been properly kept during the financial year ended 30 June 2022; in accordance with:
 - i. sections 20(1), 22(1-2), 24(1-3) of the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991; and
 - ii. sections 10(6) and 11 of the NSW Charitable Fundraising Regulations 2015.
- b) The money received as a result of fundraising appeals conducted by the entity during the financial year ended 30 June 2022 has been properly accounted for and applied, in all material respects in accordance with the above-mentioned Act and Regulations.

Conclusion

Based on my review nothing has come to my attention that causes me to believe that the financial report of Financial Counsellors' Association of NSW Inc does not satisfy the requirements of Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 including:

- a) giving a true and fair view of the registered entity's financial position as at 30 June 2022 and of its financial performance for the year 2022; and
- b) complying with Australian Accounting Standards to the extent described in Note 3, and Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Regulations 2013.

Basis of Accounting

Without modifying above, I draw attention to Note 3 to the financial report, which describes the basis of accounting. The financial report has been prepared for the purpose of fulfilling the responsible entities' financial reporting responsibilities under the ACNC Act. As a result, the report may not be suitable for another purpose.
